0 Introduction

0.1 THE MIDDLE WAY

Nowadays, there is a proliferation of books on the Buddha's Teachings. Studying these books would inevitably result in imbibing some of the views and interpretations of the various writers on what the Buddha actually taught, which would result in some wrong views. On the other hand, there are some meditation teachers who advise their students not to study at all but to only meditate. In effect, what they are suggesting is for their students to listen to them only.

(Dhammavuddho Thera, "Liberation: Relevance of Sutta-Vinaya," 1997:2)

And the "middle way," avoiding these two extremes, Dhammavuddho proposes, is to investigate the Buddha's discourses and practise his noble eightfold path, "whether by lay people or by monks."

0.2 In December 1997, Dhammavuddho Thera gave a talk entitled "Importance of the Buddha's Discourses" to the Theravada Society of Australia. This talk was revised into an article entitled "Liberation: Relevance of Sutta-Vinaya" and published in Theravada, the journal of the Theravada Society of Australia (March 1999). The most significant statement that Dhammavuddho makes in his article is that "it is clear that hearing Dhamma can make one an Ariyan disciple" (1997:6). Dhammavuddho bases all his arguments on the teachings of the Pali Canon.

0.3 Of special interest, for example, are his references to the (Sekha) Uddesa Sutta (A 3.85) [2] and the Sa,upadisesa Sutta (A 9.12) [3],<sup>1</sup> which in essence state that the streamwinner and the once-returner do not need perfect concentration, that is, they do not need dhyana (jhāna), nor even need to "meditate" (as the term is popularly taken today).<sup>2</sup> Two essential qualities we need to cultivate to prepare for streamwinning are moral virtue and mindfulness, especially the perception of impermanence.<sup>3</sup>

Bodhi, in an article based on a careful study of the Pali suttas, entitled "The Jhānas and the lay disciple" (2001:36-64) makes this important statement:

All noble disciples acquire the right concentration of the Noble Eightfold Path, which is defined as the four Jhānas. This need not be understood to mean that stream-enterers and once-returners already possess Jhāna before they reach stream-entry. The formula for right concentration may imply only that they must eventually attain the Jhānas in the course of developing the path to its culmination in arahantship. (Bodhi 2001:62)

0.4 In this study I have selected those references that Dhammavuddho has quoted without giving them in full, and which I will here provide within the scope of this study. In most cases, I have let the texts speak for themselves, or serve as bases for discussion and reflection. Read through each passage or those of your choice, making sure you understand every word (looking up difficult words, if necessary) and have some idea of the passage's import. Then spend a quiet moment (for even a few minutes), not thinking anything, simply letting the Dharma settle in your mind, as it were.<sup>4</sup>

1 Right View

1.1 (Magga) Vibhaṅga Sutta (S 45.8)

4 And what, bhikkhus, is right view?<sup>5</sup>

The knowledge that is suffering.

The knowledge that is the arising of suffering.

The knowledge [9] that is the ending of suffering.

The knowledge that is the path leading to the cessation of suffering.

—This is called right view.

(S 45.8,4/5:8 f); full tr: SD 14.5

1.2 Niṭṭha Sutta (A 10.63)

1.2.1 Wordplay

1.2.1.1 In the Niṭṭha Sutta (A 10.63) below], the word niṭṭhā (Vedic niṣṭhā) is translated as “(spiritual) goal,” but it has a double sense, a wordplay. Here, the phrase mayi niṭṭhaṅ, gatā can mean (1) “who have won their goal under me” or (2) “who have found certainty in me”—both are equally applicable here [§1]. In other words, these saints have attained to their respective levels, and they show wise, joyful and utter faith in the Buddha, too.

1.2.1.2 The word niṭṭhā (f) means “fulfillment, completion, perfection, culmination point; achieved the aim; reached the goal.” In different contexts, it can mean any of the heavenly destinations in outside systems (“the many goals”), or to nirvana (“the one goal”) in Buddhism, as stated in the Cūḷa Siha, nāda Sutta (M 11).<sup>6</sup> Its simplest sense is “fulfilment,” as in “where do hope and its fulfilment ... have their origin here (in the world) ... and in the hereafter” (Sn 864).<sup>7</sup>

1.2.1.3 The other meaning of niṭṭha is “attained nirvana.” The commentary on the Niṭṭha Sutta explains the phrase, “win their goals here” (idha niṭṭhā) as “attain final nirvana in this world itself” (imas-mim yeva loke parinibbānam) (AA 5:44). It should, however, be noted that the Sutta applies niṭṭha to streamwinning, once-returning, and non-returning, too. In these cases, niṭṭhā simply means “goal,” that is, the spiritual fruitions, respectively, of the 3 earlier paths.

The “world” (indicated by idha, “here,” in the Sutta) is clearly the sense-sphere,<sup>8</sup> since streamwinners and once-returners may “reach their goal” (niṭṭhaṅgata) either as humans or as heavenly beings. The same commentary says that “after leaving this world” (idha vihāya) means “in the Pure Abodes of the brahma world” (suddh’āvāsa, brahma.lokam) (AA 5:44).

In Dh 351, in the phrase, “having reached perfection, fearless” (niṭṭhaṅgato asantāsī), niṭṭhaṅgata refers to arhathood, as evident from the context of the verse, and also confirmed by its commentary (DhA 4:70,19-21).

<sup>5</sup> Cf (Avijjā) Paccaya S (S 12.27): “... a noble disciple thus understands the condition (paccaya); thus understands the arising of the condition; thus understands the cessation of the condition; thus understands the way leading to the cessation of the condition: one is then called a noble disciple who is accomplished in right view ...” (S 12.27,-15/2:43), SD 39.12.

SD 3.3(1.2)*Niṭṭha Sutta

The Discourse on the Certain | A 10.63/5:119 f [A:B 3.86]

Theme: Common qualities that unify the saints in their spiritual goals

1 Bhikshus, all those who have won their goal<sup>9</sup> under me [who have found certainty in me] are those accomplished in right view.<sup>10</sup>

Of those accomplished in right view, five win their goals here (in this life), five win their goals on leaving (here).

Who are the 5 who win their goals here? [119]

2 THE STREAMWINNERS. (Those who win their goal) here and now are:<sup>11</sup>

- (1) the seven-at-most,<sup>12</sup>
- (2) the clan-to-clan-goer,<sup>13</sup>
- (3) the single-seeder,<sup>14</sup>
- (4) the once-returner,<sup>15</sup> and
- (5) the arhat [worthy one].<sup>16</sup>

These are the 5 who win their goals here.

2.2 Who are those who win their goals after leaving this world?

3 THE NON-RETURNERS. (Those who win their goals after leaving here are):<sup>17</sup>

- (1) An attainer of nirvana in the interval [the intermediate state],<sup>18</sup>
- (2) an attainer of nirvana upon landing,<sup>19</sup>
- (3) an attainer of nirvana without exertion,<sup>20</sup>
- (4) an attainer of nirvana with exertion,<sup>21</sup>
- (5) one bound upstream, heading for the Akanitṭha realm.

3.2 These are the 5 who win their goals after leaving this world.<sup>22</sup>

3.3 Bhikshus, all those who have won their goals under me are those accomplished in right view.

<sup>9</sup> “Who have won their goal,” niṭṭhaṅ, gatā. There is a wordplay on mayi niṭṭhaṅ, gatā, which can mean (1) “who have won their goal under me” or (2) “who have found certainty in me” [1.2.1].

<sup>11</sup> The differences amongst the first 3 kinds of streamwinners is prob arise from the relative strengths of their spiritual faculties (indriya) of concentration and wisdom are: see Sikkhā S 1 (A 3.89,2.1) [SD 3.3(2)]; also Sikkhā S 2 (A 3.86/1:231), SD 80.13.

<sup>12</sup> Satta-k, khattu, parama. “Having re-arisen and wandered amongst gods and humans for 7 lives at the most, (one) makes an end of suffering.” (Sa, upadisesa S A 9.12,10/4:381), SD 3.3(3): see below.

<sup>13</sup> Kolaṃ, kola. “Having re-arisen and wandered amongst two or three families, (one) makes an end of suffering.” (A 9.12,9 /4:381), SD 3.3(3): see below.

<sup>14</sup> Eka, bṛī. “Having taken only one more human rebirth, (one) makes an end of suffering.” (A 9.12,8/4:380 f): see below.

<sup>17</sup> For the distinctions amongst these 5 kinds of non-returners, see Purisa, gati S (A 7.52/4:73 f), SD 82.10. They are mentioned in connection with the 3 trainings in (Sekha) Uddesa S 3 (A 3.87), SD 80.14 & (Ti) Sikkhā S (A 3.88), SD 24.10c.

<sup>18</sup> Antarā, parinibbāyī (D 3:237). For a discussion of the doctrinal problem here and on the intermediate state, see Is rebirth immediate? SD 2.17 (4-5).

<sup>19</sup> Upahacca, parinibbāyī (D 3:237), one who while living beyond half of the life-span, or at the moment of death, attains the holy path for overcoming the higher fetters (Pug 1.43). See Is rebirth immediate? SD 2.17 (4-5).

<sup>20</sup> Asaṅkhāra, parinibbāyī (D 3:237), one who overcomes the higher fetters without exertion (Pug 1.44). See Is rebirth immediate? SD 2.17 (4-5).

Of those accomplished in right view, 5 win their goals here (in this life), 5 win their goals after leaving this world.

2 The 3 trainings and the 4 saints

The (Sekha) Uddesa Sutta (A 3.85) is a definitive discourse on how the 3 trainings<sup>23</sup> are related to the attaining of sainthood.<sup>24</sup> The streamwinner is clearly defined here:

SD 3.3(2)

Sikkhā Sutta 1

The First Discourse on the Training | A 3.85/1:231 f [A:B 3.86]
Also Paṭhama (Sekha) Uddesa Sutta or (Sekha) Uddesa Sutta 1 =
The First Discourse on the (Learner’s) Teaching
Theme: The 3 trainings and the 4 saints

1 Bhikshus, sons of family, desiring spiritual welfare, train in these training rules numbering more than 150 that are recited fortnightly.

1.2 Bhikshus, all these combine to form the 3 trainings.

1.3 What are the three?

The training in higher moral virtue, the training in higher mind, the training in higher wisdom.<sup>25</sup>

2 (1) THE STREAMWINNER

Here, bhikshus, a monk is fully accomplished in moral virtue but gains only limited concentration, gains only limited wisdom.

2.2 Whatever lesser and minor rules that one might transgress, one rises above them.<sup>26</sup>

2.3 What is the reason for this?

Here, bhikshus, there is no incapability, I say.

2.4 For, here, one is consistently virtuous, established in moral virtue and undertakes to train in the training-rules that are fundamental to the holy life<sup>27</sup> and that befit the holy life.<sup>28</sup>

2.5 With the total destruction of the 3 lower fetters,<sup>29</sup> he is a streamwinner, no longer bound for the lower world,<sup>30</sup> sure of going over to self-awakening.

<sup>23</sup> On the 3 trainings, see Sīla samādhi paññā, SD 21.6 & (Ti) Sikkhā S (A 3.88/1:235), SD 24.10c.

<sup>24</sup> A 3.85/1:231 f, also called (Mattaso,kārī) Sikkhā S. See SD 21.6 for a discussion.

<sup>25</sup> That is, adhi,sīla,sikkhā adhi,citta,sikkhā adhi,paññā,sikkhā. Alt tr: “training in terms of moral virtue, training in terms of the mind, training in terms of wisdom” (here, the training aspect is emphasized against the theoretical moral virtue (sīla), concentration (samādhi), wisdom (paññā). Traditionally, the “higher training” (adhi,sikkhā) leads to the attainment of dhyana (jhāna).

<sup>26</sup> Take, eg, Sarakāṇi who, despite breaching the precept against intoxicants in due course dies a streamwinner. See Sarakāṇi S 1 (S 55.24/5:375-377), SD 3.6.

<sup>28</sup> “That befit the holy life (pl),” brahma.cariya,sārappa, ie, it conduces to the moral virtue connected with the 4 paths. (AA 2:349)

<sup>29</sup> On the (first) 3 fetters, see Emotional independence, SD 40a.8. The fetters are broken by the practice of the perception of impermanence, see (Anicca) Cakkhu S (S 25.1) + SD 16.7 (5) & Mahā Rāhul’ovāda S (M 62,23), SD 3.11.

<sup>30</sup> Avinīpāta, alt tr “not fated for birth in a suffering state”; opp of vinīpāta, “the world of suffering,” another name for the 4 woeful courses (duggati) or the 4 lower worlds (apāya) (Vism 13.92 f). Sometimes 5 woeful courses (pañca,gati) (D 33,2.1(4)/3:234; A 11.68) are mentioned: the hells (niraya), the animal birth (tirachāna,yoni), the ghost realm (pitti,visaya), the human world (manussa) and the heavenly world (deva). Of these, the first three are woeful, with the asura-demons (asura,kāya) as the fourth woeful course. The remaining two are “happy courses” (sugati).

3 (2) THE ONCE-RETURNER

Here, bhikshus, a monk is fully accomplished in moral virtue<sup>31</sup> but gains only limited concentration, gains only limited wisdom.

3.2 Whatever lesser and minor rules that one might transgress, one rises above them.

3.3 What is the reason for this?

Here, bhikshus, there is no incapability, I say.

3.4 For, here, one is consistently virtuous, established in moral virtue and undertakes to train in training-rules that are fundamental to the holy life and that befit the holy life.

3.5 With the destruction of the 3 fetters and with the diminishing of lust, hate and delusion, he is a once-returner, returning only once to this world to make an end of suffering.

4 (3) THE NON-RETURNER

Here, bhikshus, a monk is fully accomplished in moral virtue, is fully accomplished in concentration, but gains only limited wisdom.

4.2 Whatever lesser and minor rules that one might transgress, one rises above them.

4.3 What is the reason for this?

Here, bhikshus, there is no incapability, I say.

4.4 For, here, one is consistently virtuous, established in moral virtue and undertakes to train in training-rules that are fundamental to the holy life and that befit the holy life.

4.5 With the destruction of the 5 lower fetters,<sup>32</sup> he is spontaneously reborn (in the Pure Abodes)<sup>33</sup> and there attains final nirvana without ever returning from there.

5 (4) THE ARHAT

Here, bhikshus, a monk is fully accomplished in moral virtue, is fully accomplished in concentration, is fully accomplished in wisdom.

5.2 Whatever lesser and minor rules that one might transgress, one rises above them.

5.3 What is the reason for this?

Here, bhikshus, there is no incapability, I say.

5.4 For, here, one is consistently virtuous, established in moral virtue and undertakes to train in training-rules that are fundamental to the holy life and that befit the holy life.

5.5 one is with mental influxes destroyed,<sup>34</sup>

For a discussion, see Nyanaponika & Bodhi (tr), Numerical Discourses of the Buddha, 1999:14-19. See Pañsa, gati S (A 9.68/4:459), SD 2.29.

<sup>31</sup> “He possesses virtue dear to the noble ones, unbroken, untorn, unmixed, spotless, liberating, praised by the wise, untarnished, giving rise to concentration”: see Pañca Vera Bhaya S (S 12.41/2:70), §4.1.14 below.

<sup>32</sup> The 10 fetters (dasa saṃyojana) are: (1) self-identity view (sakkāya, diṭṭhi), (2) spiritual doubt (vicikicchā), (3) attachment to rules and vows (sīla-b, bata, parāmāsa), (4) sensual lust (kāma, rāga), (5) repulsion (paṭigha), (6) greed for form existence (rūpa, rāga), (7) greed for formless existence (arūpa, rāga), (8) conceit (māna), (9) restlessness (uddhacca), (10) ignorance (avijjā) (S 5:61; A 5:13; Vbh 377). In some places, no 5 (paṭigha) is replaced by ill will (vyāpāda). The first 5 are the lower fetters (oram, bhāgiya), so called because they bind us to the lower realms, ie, the sense-worlds. The rest are the higher fetters (uddham, bhāgiya), that bind us to the higher realms, ie, the form world and the formless worlds. On these worlds, see SD 1.7 (Table 1.7).

<sup>33</sup> That is, reborn in the Pure Abodes (suddh’āvāsa), the 5 highest heavens of the form world (rūpa, loka) inhabited only by non-returners who assume their last birth to become arhats and attain nirvana. These worlds are Āviha (“Non-declining”), Ātappa (“Unworried”), Sudassā (“Clearly Visible”), Sudassī (“Clear-visioned”) and Akaṇiṭṭhā (“Highest”) (D 3:237, M 3:103, Vbh 425, Pug 42-46).

<sup>34</sup> “Mental influxes destroyed,” khīṇ’āsava. The term āsava (lit “in-flow, out-flow”) comes from ā-savati “flows towards” (ie, either “into” or “out” towards the observer). It has been variously translated as taints (“deadly taints,” RD), corruptions, intoxicants, biases, depravity, misery, bad (influence), or simply left untranslated. The Abhidhamma lists 4 āsava: the influxes of (1) sense-desire (kām’āsava), (2) (desire for eternal) existence (bhav’āsava), (3) views (diṭṭh’āsava), (4) ignorance (avijjāsava) (D 16,2.4, Pm 1.442, 561, Dhs §§1096-1100, Vbh §937). These 4 are also known as “floods” (ogha) and “yokes” (yoga). The list of 3 influxes (omitting the influx of views) [43] is prob who in this very life, having won through his own direct knowledge the influx-free liberation of mind and the liberation by wisdom,<sup>35</sup> abides therein.

6 Thus, bhikshus, those who train partially gain partial result,<sup>36</sup> those who train fully gain full results. These training-rules are not fruitless,<sup>37</sup> I say!

— evaṃ —

3 The 9 kinds of saints

The Sa,upadisesa Sutta (A 9.12) mentions 4 kinds of non-returners, and, for our purposes here, lists the 4 kinds of streamwinners [§§8-10], as well as stressing the ease of attaining spiritual awakening through proper practice.

SD 3.3(3)

Sa,upādi,sesa Sutta

The Discourse on Those with Residues | A 9.12/4:378-382

Traditional: A 9.1.2.2 = Aṅguttara 9, Navaka Nipāta 1, Paṭhama Paṇṇāsaka 2, Sīhanāda Vagga 2

Theme: The non-returner, the once-returner and the streamwinner

- 1 At one time, the Blessed One was dwelling in Anātha,piṇḍika’s Park in Jeta’s grove near Sāvattthī.
- 1.2 Then, in the morning, the venerable Sāriputta, having dressed himself and taking robe and bowl, entered Sāvattthī for alms.
- 1.3 Then, the venerable Sāriputta thought,
“It is too early to go into Sāvattthī for alms. What if I were to go to the sectarian wanderers’ park?”<sup>38</sup>
- 1.4 Then the venerable Sāriputta went into the sectarian wanderers’ park and exchanged greetings with them. When this courteous and friendly exchange was concluded, he sat down at one side.

Those with clinging residues

2 Now at that time, this topic of conversation arose amongst the wanderers of other sects who had gathered together there,

- 2.2 “Avuso, those who die with residues of the aggregates of clinging<sup>39</sup> are not freed from hell,
not freed from the animal birth,
not freed from the ghost realm, not freed from the state of misery, the bad destination, the suffering state.”

older and is found more frequently in the Suttas (D 33,1.10(20)/3:216; M 1:55, 3:41; A 3.59, 67, 6.63). The destruction of these āsavas is equivalent to arhathood. See BDict: āsava.

<sup>35</sup> The one freed of mind has destroyed all the mental hindrances, and as such could attain dhyana at will. The one freed by wisdom “may not have reached the 8 liberations (vimokkha = jhāna) in his own body, but through seeing with wisdom, his mental influxes are destroyed” (M 70,16/1:478): see SD 11.1 (5.2) for details; also Mahā Suññata S (M 122), SD 11.4 (3.3).

<sup>38</sup> “Sectarian wanderers,” nānā,titthiyā paribbājakā, lit “other-fording wanderers”; fully: “the wanderers of other sects” or “heterodox wanderers,” ie, non-Buddhist wanderers. It is interesting that this is the closest that the Buddhist texts have for “gentile” (a non-Jew), ie, an “outsider.”

<sup>39</sup> “With residues of the aggregates of clinging,” sa,upādi,sesa, ie, “with remains of material support to which one grasps (for rebirth),” namely, the 5 aggregates (khandha): form, feeling, perception, mental formations, consciousness. In the suttas, the word is mostly used in such expressions as “one of the 2 fruits may be expected: either perfect wisdom (arhathood) or, if the groups are still remaining (sati upādi,sesa), non-returning” (D 22). Also in “Here the Tathāgata has passed into the nirvana-element in which no more groups are remaining (anupādi,sesa)” (A 4.118/-2:120): see BDict: upādi.

3 Then the venerable Sāriputta, neither approving nor disapproving of the word of the wanderers of other sects, rose from his seat and left, thinking,

“I will learn the truth of this matter from the Blessed One himself.”

3.2 Then the venerable Sāriputta, having gone into Sāvattḥī for alms, having returned from alms-round [379] and finished his meal, approached the Blessed One, saluted him and sat down at one side.

3.3 Sitting thus at one side, the venerable Sāriputta related to the Blessed One what had happened at the sectarian wanderers’ park, and this topic of conversation that arose amongst the wanderers of other faiths who had gathered together there,

3.4 ‘Avuso, those who die with residues of the aggregates of clinging are not freed from hell,

not freed from the animal birth,
not freed from the ghost realm,

not freed from the state of misery, the bad destination, the suffering state.’

3.5 Then, neither approving nor disapproving of the word of the wanderers of other sects, I rose from my seat and left, thinking,

‘I will learn the truth of this matter from the Blessed One himself.’”

The 9 who die with clinging residues

4 “Sāriputta, some of the wanderers of other sects are foolish and unintelligent; some will know those with residues of the aggregates of clinging as those with residues of the aggregates of clinging; some will know those without aggregates of clinging remaining as those without the aggregates of clinging remaining.

4.2 Sāriputta, there are these 9 persons, who, having died with residues of the aggregates of clinging, are fully freed from hell,

fully freed from the animal birth,

fully freed from the ghost realm,

fully freed from the state of misery,

the bad destination, the suffering state.

parimuttā nirayā

parimuttā tiracchāna,yoniyā

parimuttā pitti,visayā

parimuttā apāya,

-duggati,vinipātā

4.3 What are the nine? [380]

5 (1) THE IN-BETWEEN ATTAINER. Here, Sāriputta, a certain person is fully accomplished in moral virtue, is fully accomplished in concentration, but does not gain wisdom completely.

5.2 With the utter destruction of the 5 lower fetters, one becomes an attainer of nirvana in the intermediate state.<sup>40</sup>

5.3 This, Sāriputta, is the 1st person, who, having died with residues of the aggregates of clinging, is fully freed from hell,

fully freed from the animal birth,

fully freed from the ghost realm,

fully freed from the state of misery, the bad destination, the suffering state.

6 (2) THE ATTAINER UPON LANDING. Furthermore, Sāriputta, here a certain person is fully accomplished in moral virtue, is fully accomplished in concentration,

but does not gain wisdom completely.

6.2 With the utter destruction of the 5 lower fetters, one becomes an attainer of nirvana upon landing.<sup>41</sup>

6.3 This, Sāriputta, is the 2nd person, who, having died with residues of the aggregates of clinging, is fully freed from hell,
 fully freed from the animal birth,
 fully freed from the ghost realm,
 fully freed from the state of misery, the bad destination, the suffering state.

Sāriputta rejoices

10.3 Not until now, Sāriputta, has this Dharma discourse been declared to bhikshus, nuns, laymen or laywomen.

10.4 What is the reason for this?

So that after hearing this Dharma discourse, they do not bring heedlessness upon themselves! [382]

10.5 Moreover, Sāriputta, this Dharma discourse has been given by me simply because of my being questioned.

3 These 4 things, when cultivated, often developed, lead to the realization of the fruit of streamwinning.

4.1.1 Description of the 4 limbs for streamwinning

(1) Associating with true individuals (sappurisa, samseva), those who know and practise the true teachings, and are filled with wisdom and compassion, inspires us to emulate them. In this way, we begin to know and understand the Buddha as the ideal of self-awakening, the Dharma as the true path to that awakening, and the Sangha as the holy community of noble saints who have followed the Buddha's teaching to become self-awakened. In short, we have wise faith in the 3 jewels.<sup>59</sup>

(2) Hearing the true teaching (saddhamma, savana), that is, the teaching of the Buddha, especially as recorded in the early Buddhist texts, in all their simplicity and clarity. The teaching trains us to harmonize our actions and speech with the people around us and with our environment. Such a harmonious life is the basis for mental cultivation, which in turn develops both our body and mind, so that we are physically and mentally healthy. With a healthy mind in a healthy body, we are more readily open to wisdom training.<sup>60</sup> This is called the 3 trainings.<sup>61</sup>

(3) Wise attention (yoniso, manasikāra) refers to the habitual practice of directing the mind or attention to see directly into the true nature of things, that they are all impermanent (anicca). As we see deeper into this recurring pattern, or “universal characteristic” (sāmañña lakkhaṇa), we begin to understand that they are also unsatisfactory (dukkha). In due course, we begin to see that what is impermanent and unsatisfactory has no abiding essence or eternal self or soul.<sup>62</sup>

Wise attention, in other words, is our own effort at personal cultivation for the arising of liberating wisdom. The other way for liberating wisdom to arise is through wisely listening to others, or “the voice of another” (parato ghosa).<sup>63</sup>

(4) Practice of the Dharma in accordance with the the Dharma (dhammānudhamma, paṭipatti) to live a wholesome life in keeping with the teachings of the Buddha and his early saints. The (Nibbidā) Dhamma, kathika Sutta (S 12.16) defines this as practising the Dharma “for the sake of revulsion, of dispassion, of cessation”<sup>64</sup> regarding any, a part or all of the 12 links, that is, decay-and-death, birth, existence, clinging, craving, feeling, contact, the 6 sense-bases, name-and-form, consciousness, decay and ignorance.<sup>65</sup>

On a simpler level, this refers to renunciation (nekkhamma) in a spiritual sense, that is, in terms of the body, speech and mind.<sup>66</sup> Bodily renunciation refers to the habit of letting go of whatever is unhealthy

<sup>58</sup> “True individuals,” sappurisa, also “virtuous persons” or “ideal persons,” ie, true spiritual practitioners. On the true individual's qualities, see Sappurisa S (M 113/3:37-45), SD 29.6. They are also given at D 33,2.2(6)/3:252, 34,1.8(7)/ 3:283; M 110,14-24/3:23 f; A 7.64/4:113, 8.38/4:144.

<sup>59</sup> On the Buddha's virtues, see Buddhānussati, SD 15.7; on the virtues of the Dharma, see Dhammānussati, SD 15.9; on the virtue of the Sangha, see Aṭṭha, puggala S 1 (A 8.59), SD 15.10a(1).

<sup>63</sup> For further details, see Yoniso Manasikāra Sampadā S (S 45.55/5:31), SD 34.12 (2); Nimitta and anuvyañjana, SD 19.14 (5).

and unhelpful to our physical health and wellbeing. Ethically, this means respecting life (ours and others), the happiness of others, and their personal space and freedom (these qualities are, in fact, embodied in the first three of the 5 precepts).<sup>67</sup>

Verbal renunciation is the habit of refraining from speech that is false, divisive, harsh or unbeneficial, and the practice of right speech, that is, speech that is true, unifying, pleasant, and beneficial. In short, this is communication that is helpful and healing.

Mental renunciation is training ourselves to let go of negative ideas and views, and cultivating wholesome ones. This is best done through meditation and mindfulness practices.<sup>68</sup> Through meditation, we learn to let go of all thoughts, so that our mind is calm and clear, healing us and helping us to see people in a positive way, and see the true nature of life and the world so that we live truly happily and beneficially, evolving on the path of personal growth and spiritual liberation.<sup>69</sup>

4.1.2 Identical teachings. The (Sotāpatti) Phala Sutta (S 55.55) is almost identical to a number of other suttas, where the 4 qualities are known by different names, such as:

- (Sotāpatti-y-)Aṅga Sutta S 55.50 the limbs for streamwinning (sotāpatti-y-aṅga)<sup>70</sup>

What are the four?

4 (1) Here, Nandiya, a noble disciple has wise faith in the Buddha, thus:

‘So too, is he the Blessed One: for, he is arhat [worthy],
fully self-awakened one,
accomplished in wisdom and conduct,
well-farer,
knower of worlds,
peerless guide of persons to be tamed,

5 (2) One has wise faith in the Dharma, thus:

‘Well-taught is the Blessed One’s true teaching, visible here and now,
immediate [having nothing to do with time],
inviting one to come and see,
accessible [to bring oneself up to it], to be personally known by the wise.’<sup>79</sup>

6 (3) One has wise faith in the Sangha, thus:

The Blessed One’s community of disciples
These are the 4 pairs of persons,
this Blessed One’s community of disciples is worthy of offerings,
worthy of hospitality,
worthy of gifts,

On the 3 kinds of streamwinners, see Sa,upādi,sesa S (A 8,12,8-10), SD 3.3(3) above.

4.2.1 The Pañca Vera Bhaya Sutta 1 (S 12.41) is practically identical to the (Dasaka) Bhaya Sutta (A 10.92). #### The 5 kinds of hate and fear

<sup>83</sup> This “bright faith” (pasāda) relates either to that of the confident joy of the path (magga,pasāda), or the review knowledge of one who has reached the path (āgata,maggassa paccvekkhaṇa-p,pasāda) (SA 3:277).

<sup>84</sup> Comy says that this is the joy (sukha) associated with the 3 higher paths (once-returning, non-returning and arhathood) (upari,magga-t,taya,sampayuttam sukham, SA 3:277).

<sup>85</sup> Ogadha, alt tr “being grounded (in), having a grounding (in).” Ogādha is a by-form of ogādha (“firm footing, solid ground (lit & fig),” eg, (a sandbank) in the water; cf paṭigādha, “firm ground”: A 7.15,7.2 (SD 28.6), from vb ogādhati, “stands firmly.” Comys consistently gloss ogādha with paṭiṭṭhā, “footing” (eg, ItA 1:112) or with paṭiṭṭhahati, “to be established” (eg, AA 2:267; UA 345; PmA 1:108). On ogadha, see esp SD 49.8 (7.5.3.6(4)). See DP: ogadha<sup>1</sup>; also S:B 1093 n243.

The importance of this discourse is attested by the fact that it also appears as Anātha,piṇḍika S 3 or Pañca Vera S (S 55.28/5:387-389), and Bhaya Vera S (A 10.92/5:182-184). <sup>88</sup> “(Kinds of) hate and fear,” bhayāni verāni, or “terror and fear.” Comy glosses as “volitions of fear and hate” (bhaya,vera,cetanāyo) (SA 2:72). Cf A 9.27/4:405-407, 10.92/5:182-184, etc. “Hate” (vera) here I take as an emotion (expressed externally), while “fear” (bhaya) as an internal feeling (an unemoted or unexpressed mental state). 4 What are the 5 kinds of hate and fear that have been quelled?

5 (1) Houselord, one who harms life, conditioned by harming of life, generates hate and fear in this life, and generates hate and fear in the next life, too— and one feels mental pain and unease, too.<sup>92</sup>

5.2 But for one who abstains from harming life, hate and fear are quelled.

[One does not generate hate and fear in this life nor in the next life—and one does not feel mental pain and unease.]<sup>93</sup>

6 (2) Houselord, one who takes the not-given, conditioned by taking the not-given, [69] generates hate and fear in this life, and generates hate and fear in the next life, too— and one feels mental pain and unease, too.

6.2 But for one who abstains from taking the not-given, hate and fear are quelled.

[One does not generate hate and fear in this life nor in the next life—and one does not feel mental pain and unease.]

7 (3) Houselord, one who indulges in sexual misconduct, conditioned by the indulging in sexual misconduct, generates hate and fear in this life, and generates hate and fear in the next life, too— and one feels mental pain and unease, too.

7.2 But for one who abstains from sexual misconduct, hate and fear are quelled.

[One does not generate hate and fear in this life nor in the next life—and one does not feel mental pain and unease.]

8 (4) Houselord, one who speaks falsely, conditioned by speaking falsely, generates hate and fear in this life, and generates hate and fear in the next life, too— and one feels mental pain and unease, too.

8.2 But for one who abstains from speaking falsely, hate and fear are quelled.

[One does not generate hate and fear in this life nor in the next life—and one does not feel mental pain and unease.]

9 (5) Houselord, one who takes strong drinks, distilled drinks, fermented drinks and that which causes heedlessness, conditioned by indulging in strong drinks, distilled drinks, fermented drinks and that which causes heedlessness, generates hate and fear in this life, and generates hate and fear in the next life, too— and one feels pain and unease, too.

9.2 But for one who abstains from taking intoxicants hate and fear are quelled.

[One does not generate hate and fear in this life nor in the next life—and one does not feel mental pain and unease.]

These are the 5 kinds of hate and fear that have been quelled.

<sup>91</sup> Avinīpāta, alt tr “not fated for birth in a suffering state”; opp of vinīpāta, “the world of suffering,” another name for the 4 woeful courses (duggati) or the 4 lower worlds (apāya) (Vism 13.92 f). Sometimes 5 courses (pañca, gati) (D 33,2.1(4)/3:234; A 9.68/4:459 @ SD 2.20) are mentioned: the hells (niraya), the animal birth (tirachāna, yoni), the ghost realm (pitti, visaya), the human world (manussa) and the heavenly world (deva). Of these, the first three are woeful, with the asura-demons (asura, kāya) as the fourth woeful course. The remaining two are “happy courses” (sugati). ### The 4 limbs of a streamwinner (sotāpannassa aṅgāni)<sup>94</sup>

10 What are the 4 limbs of a streamwinner<sup>95</sup> that one possesses?

11 (1) WISE FAITH IN THE BUDDHA. Here, householder, a noble disciple is accomplished with wise faith<sup>96</sup> in the Buddha thus:

‘So, too, is he the Blessed One:<sup>97</sup> for, he is arhat,
fully self-awakened,
accomplished in wisdom and conduct,
well-farer,
knower of worlds,
peerless guide of tamable persons,
teacher of gods and humans,
awakened,
blessed.’

12 (2) WISE FAITH IN THE DHARMA. One is accomplished with wise faith in the Dharma thus:

‘Well-taught is the true teaching of the Blessed One,
to be self-realized,
immediate [having nothing to do with time],
for one to “come and see,”
accessible [leading onward],
to be personally known by the wise.’

13 (3) WISE FAITH IN THE SANGHA. One is accomplished with wise faith in the sangha thus:

‘Of good conduct is the Blessed One’s community of holy disciples;
of upright conduct is the Blessed One’s community of holy disciples;

<sup>94</sup> A parallel of this section appears in Anātha,piṇḍika S 1 (S 55.26,6-9/5:381 f), SD 23.2a & Anātha,piṇḍika S 2 (S 55.27,8/5:386 f), SD 23.2b.

<sup>95</sup> The “limbs of a streamwinner,” sotāpannassa aṅgāni (D 33,1.11(14)/3:227). Cf sot’āpatti-y-aṅga, “the limbs (or factors) for streamwinning” [4.1]. The two terms are sometimes interchangeable in the suttas, depending on the context: see SD 47.1 (2.1.1). On these terms, see SD 23.2b (1.3). For a shorter statement on the limbs of a streamwinner, see Ogadha S (S 55.2/5:343 f). For the streamwinner’s practice, see (Agata,phala) Mahānāma S (A 6.40/-3:284-288), SD 15.3. On the streamwinner’s faith, see Gethin 2001:116.

<sup>96</sup> “Wise faith,” avecca-p, pasāda. This is a syntactical cpd with avecca (Sky avetya) absolutive of **aveti*, “he undergoes, knows, experiences”; see SD 49.2. [On syntactical cpds, see K R Norman, 1991a:3.] There are 2 kinds of faith (saddhā): (1) “rootless faith” (amūlika, saddhā), baseless or irrational faith, blind faith (M 2:170,21); (2) “faith with a good cause” (ākāravati, saddhā), faith founded on seeing (M 1:320,8, 401,23). “Wise faith” is syn with (2). Amūlaka = “not seen, not heard, not suspected” (V 2:243 3:163 & Comy). Gethin speaks of two kinds of faith: the cognitive and the affective (eg, ERE: Faith & Jayatilleke, Early Buddhist Theory of Knowledge, 1963:387): “Faith in its cognitive dimension is seen as concerning belief in propositions or statements of which one does not—or perhaps cannot—have knowledge proper (however that should be defined); cognitive faith is a mode of knowing in a different category from that knowledge. Faith in its affective dimension is a more straightforward positive response to trust or confidence towards something or somebody ... the conception of saddhā in Buddhist writings appears almost, if not entirely affective, the cognitive element is completely secondary.” (Gethin 2001:107; my emphases). The streamwinner’s faith is defined in Vimānsaka S (M 47) as “his faith is strong, supported by reasons, rooted in vision” (ākāra, vatī saddhā dassana, mūlikā dalhā, M 47,16/1:320).

<sup>97</sup> Alt tr: “For the following reasons, too, he is the Blessed One [the Lord] ...” On the meaning of iti pi so, see CPD: iti: ... kitti-saddo abhuggato: “~ pi so bhagavā: arahaṃ sammā-sambuddho ...” (“for the following reasons, too, he is a bhagavā: because he is arahaṃ ...”), V 3:1,13 = D 1:49,27 = M 2:133,22 = S 1:219,31 = A 3:312,-8, qu Vism 198,4 and MahvṬ 26,11 (VA 112,4 = DA 146,5 ≠ Vism 198,8: so bhagavā ~ pi arahaṃ ~ pi sammāsambuddho ... iminā ca iminā ca kāraṇenā ti vuttam hoti). Translating iti pi so this way explains the double occurrence of Bhagavā. See L S Cousins, “Review of Middle Length Discourses of the Buddha,” in Journal of Buddhist Ethics 4, 1997:165. The Skt parallel to this opening reads: Iti hi sa bhagavām tathāgato, but tathāgato here is missing from the Pali version. See Dhaj’agga S (S 11.3), SD 15.5 (2).

worthy of offerings,
worthy of hospitality,
worthy of gifts,
worthy of salutation with the lotus-palms,
an incomparable field of merit for the world.'

14 (4) NOBLE MORAL VIRTUE. One is accomplished with moral virtues dear to the noble ones,<sup>98</sup> unbroken, untorn, unmixed, spotless, liberating, praised by the wise, untarnished, giving rise to concentration.<sup>99</sup>

These, houselord, are the 4 limbs of a streamwinner that one possesses.

The noble way

15 And what, houselord, is the noble way [method]<sup>100</sup> that one has clearly seen and thoroughly penetrated with wisdom?

16 SPECIFIC DEPENDENT ARISING. Here, houselord, one properly and skillfully attends to dependent arising<sup>101</sup> itself thus:

When this is, that is;	imasmim sati idam hoti
When this is not, that is not.	imasmim asati idam na hoti
With this arising, that arises;	imass'uppādā idam uppajjati
With this ceasing, that ceases.	imassa nirodhā idam nirujjhati <sup>102</sup>

17 DEPENDENT ARISING.<sup>103</sup> That is, with ignorance as condition, mental formations (arise);

17.2 With mental formations as condition, there is	consciousness;
with consciousness as condition, there are	name-and-form;
with name-and-form as condition, there are	the six sense-bases;
with the six sense-bases as condition, there is	contact;
with contact as condition, there is	feeling;
with feeling as condition, there is	craving;
with craving as condition, there is	clinging;
with clinging as condition, there is	existence;

<sup>98</sup> "Moral virtue dear to the noble ones," ariya, kantāni sīlāni. The noble one's moral virtue is explained at Vism 7.101-106/221 f. SA says that the noble ones do not violate the 5 precepts because this virtue is dear to them (SA 2:74).

<sup>102</sup> In his What the Buddha Taught (2nd ed 1967), W Rahula has rearranged the "specific dependent arising" in this formula, thus:

When this is, that is;	imasmim sati idam hoti
This arising, that arises	imass'uppādā idam uppajjati
When this is not, that is not	imasmim asati idam na hoti
This ceasing, that ceases	imassa nirodhā idam nirujjhati. (1967:53)

In his n (same page) he says: "To put it into a modern form: When A is B is; A arising, B rises; When A is not, B is not; A ceasing, B ceases." (id). Such a presentation, however, is unattested in the early Buddhist texts.

<sup>103</sup> Paṭicca, samuppāda: V 1:1; S 11:1; Vbh 135; Vism 517; Abhs 8.2. See Dependent Arising, SD 5.16, esp (1.4) for def of each of the 12 links.

with existence as condition, there is	birth;
with birth as condition, there are	decay-and-death.
There also arise	sorrow, lamentation, pain, grief and despair.

Such is the arising of this whole mass of suffering.

17.3 But with the remainderless fading away and cessation of ignorance,

With the cessation of mental formations as condition,	mental formations cease;
with the cessation of consciousness as condition,	consciousness ceases;
with the cessation of name-and-form as condition,	name-and-form cease;
with the cessation of the 6 sense-bases as condition,	the 6 sense-bases cease;
with the cessation of contact as condition,	contact ceases;
with the cessation of feeling as condition,	feeling ceases;
with the cessation of craving as condition,	craving ceases;
with the cessation of clinging as condition,	clinging ceases;
with the cessation of existence as condition,	existence ceases;
with the cessation of birth as condition,	birth ceases;
There also cease	decay-and-death cease. sorrow, lamentation, pain, grief and despair.

Such is the cessation of this whole mass of suffering.’

This is the noble way that one has clearly seen and thoroughly penetrated with wisdom.

18 Houselord, when the noble disciple’s 5 kinds of hate and fear have been quelled, one is accomplished in the 4 limbs of streamwinning, and one has clearly seen and thoroughly penetrated with wisdom the noble way

—if one wishes one could by oneself declare of oneself:

‘I have destroyed hell,

the animal birth,

the ghost realm,

the state of misery,

the bad destination, the suffering state.

I am a streamwinner,

no longer bound for the lower world,

sure of going over to self-awakening!’”

— evaṃ —

4.3 THE POSSIBILITY OF STREAMWINNING. In the Sarakāni Sutta 1 (S 55.24), the Buddha speaks of the ease and possibility of attaining streamwinning, hinting that anyone with a mind has the potential for attaining it, thus,

Even these great sal trees,<sup>104</sup> Mahānāma, if they could understand<sup>105</sup> what is well spoken and what is ill spoken, I would declare them to be streamwinners, no longer bound for the lower world, sure of going over to self-awakening! (S 55.24,13/5:377)

<sup>104</sup> Comy says that the Buddha was pointing to 4 sal trees (Shorea robusta) nearby (AA 3:288).

<sup>105</sup> “Could understand,” ājāneyyūṃ (lit “were to understand”), pot 3rd pl of ājānāti, “to know, to understand, to learn, to realize; to understand, to perceive” (CPD). This verb refers to seeing through illusion directly at reality, a vision that would surely lead to the wisdom called aññā, “final knowledge,” the wisdom of the arhats.

The Discourse on (a Streamwinner's) Benefits | A 6.97/3:441

Theme: The benefits of streamwinning

1 Bhikshus, there are these 6 benefits in realizing the fruit of streamwinning. What are the six?

2 THE 6 BENEFITS OF BEING A STREAMWINNER:

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| (1) One is sure of the true teaching                         | saddhamma, niyato hoti               |
| (2) One does not fall away from true reality                 | aparihānam, dhammo hoti              |
| (3) There is a limit to one's suffering                      | pariyanta, katassa dukkham na hoti   |
| (4) One is endowed with uncommon knowledge                   | asādhāraṇena ñāṇena samannāgato hoti |
| (5) One has clearly understood causes, and                   | hetu c'assa sudiṭṭho                 |
| (6) One has clearly understood phenomena arising from causes | hetu, samuppannā ca dhammā sudiṭṭho  |

— evaṃ —

- (1) The streamwinner is sure of the true teaching because the fetter of doubt has been broken.
- (2) He does not fall back from true reality because he sees the true nature of reality through understanding impermanence.
- (3) His suffering is limited because he has only 7 more rebirths at the most.
- (4) His “uncommon knowledge” is the supramundane knowledge with nirvana as the mind's object, which is not shared by the common untutored worldling.
- (5) The understanding of causes relates to the application of specific conditionality<sup>106</sup> in daily life.
- (6) The understanding of phenomena arising from causes is the understanding of dependent arising.<sup>107</sup>

5 The streamwinner's faith

5.0 The streamwinner is closely associated with the faculty of faith (saddh'indriya), so it is useful to understand it more fully.<sup>108</sup> The streamwinner is said to have abandoned the 3 fetters of self-identity view (or more simply, self-view) (sakkāya, diṭṭhi), doubt (vicikicchā), and attachment to rituals and vows (sīlab, bata, parāmāsa).<sup>109</sup>

5.1 SELF-IDENTITY VIEW. The Pārileyya Sutta (S 22.81) defines and discusses the self-identity view and its abandonment in some detail as a means for “the immediate destruction of the mental influxes.” A being who holds such a view is said to be “trapped in self-identity” (sakkāya pariyāpanno),<sup>110</sup> which literally means “included in self-identity” or “enmeshed in self-identity.”

In the Sīha Sutta (S 22.78), the devas who regard themselves as permanent, stable and eternal are really “impermanent, unstable, not eternal, trapped in self-identity” (S 3:85). The Commentary there explains the expression as “included in the 5 aggregates.” Thus, when the Buddha teaches them the Dharma <sup>106</sup> Idap, paccayatā, ie, “When this is, that is; with this arising, that arises. When this is not, that is not; with this ending, that ends” (S 12.21/2:28), or more briefly, “Whatever is of the nature to arise, all that is of the nature to cease” (V 1:11; D 1:110; M 3:280; S 4:47, 214, 330, 5:423; A 4:143 f), or “Just as this is, so is that. Just as that is, so is this” (Sn 203 = Tha 396). See SD 5.16(2).

<sup>107</sup> Paṭicca, samuppāda, ie, the 12 links. See (Kāya) Na Tumha S (S 12.37), SD 5.14; (Paṭicca, samuppāda) Vi-bhaṅga S (A 5.57), SD 5.15; Mahā Nidāna S (D 15), SD 5.17. See esp SD 5.16.

<sup>108</sup> See (Indriya) Daṭṭhabba S (S 48.8) where the faculty of faith is def as “the 4 limbs of streamwinning” (sotā-patti-y-aṅga) (S 48.8,3), SD 10.4(1.1.3).

<sup>109</sup> M 1:9; S 5:357; Dhs 182. For a study of the 3 fetters, see Emotional independence, SD 40a.8.

<sup>110</sup> (Mahānāma) Gilayāna S (S 55.54) says that even the highest heavens are “trapped in self-identity” (sakkāya, pariyāpanno), and when we direct our mind to the cessation of self-identity, we gain the “cessation of self-view” (sakkāya, nirodha) (S 55.54.17/2:410), SD 4.10.

sealed with the 3 characteristics (impermanence, unsatisfactoriness, non-self), exposing the faults in the round of existence, the fear of knowledge enters them. (SA 2:288).

The self-identity view is also the wrong view that any of the 5 aggregates is permanent or the self. Each of the 5 aggregates—form, feelings, perception, formations and consciousness—is, in turn, taken as self, as what self possesses, as being in the self, and as what the self is in, totalling 20 types of self-identity views.<sup>111</sup> In each case, the Buddha points out that it is only formations (saṅkhāra), craving (taṇhā), feeling (vedanā), contact (phassa) and ignorance (avijjā) that add up to a self-identity view. but they are all “impermanent, constructed, and arise by way of conditions” (aniccā saṅkhatā paṭicca, samuppannā).

It is knowing and seeing this truth that leads to the immediate destruction of the mental influxes. Technically, this is known as “the ending of self-view” (sakkāya, nirodha), and is a synonym for the third noble truth. In the (Mahā, nāma) Gilayāna Sutta (S 55.54), the Buddha teaches the layman Mahānāma how to give counselling to a dying person so that one attains awakening, that is, by directing the mind to the cessation of self-identity.<sup>112</sup> The abandoning of the self-identity view, in other words, leads to streamwinning.<sup>113</sup>

5.2 DOUBT. The Dhamma, saṅgaṇī explains both self-identity view and attachment to rituals and vows as examples of wrong view (micchā, diṭṭhi) only associated with a mind (citta) that has greed (lobha) as a component,<sup>114</sup> and that these two fetters are particular manifestations of that greed (or attachment).

Doubt (vicikicchā) is defined by the Dhamma, saṅgaṇī as follows:

- doubt regarding the Teacher (more specifically, the Buddha’s awakening),
- doubt regarding the Dharma (as the path to awakening),
- doubt regarding the Sangha (that is, the community of saints),
- doubt regarding the spiritual training,
- doubt regarding the past,
- doubt regarding the future,
- doubt regarding the past and future, and
- doubt regarding the way in which states arise according to various conditions.<sup>115</sup>

It is clear here that doubt is defined in an exactly opposite manner to faith (saddhā) and joyful faith (pasāda). While faith here is the steady confidence and lucid joy with regard to the Buddha, the Dharma and the Sangha, doubt is uncertainty about them.

In the Ceto, khila Sutta (M 16), the 5 types of mental hardness (cetokhila), or spiritual barrenness, are defined as uncertainty and hostility regarding the Teacher, the Dharma, the Sangha, the training and fellow practitioners (brahma, carī).<sup>116</sup> The removal of these 5 types of mental hardness conduces to spiritual development, beginning with the arising of faith that is lucid, joyful and wise. Gethin adds a helpful note:

The thinking behind the association of sotāpatti and saddhā can perhaps be expressed in the following way. The relinquishing of attachment to individuality [sakkāya, diṭṭhi] and precept and vow [sīla-b, bata, parāmāsa] makes way for the establishing of firm confidence (regarded as having a psychological affinity with attachment); this in turn disperses doubt and uncertainty. The proper establishing of saddhā, the abandoning of sakkāya-diṭṭhi, vicikicchā and sīla-bbata, parāmāsa are, according to the logic of the dynamics of Buddhist thought, different aspects of the same process, each one involving each of the others. ### 5.3 ATTACHMENT TO RITUALS AND VOWS

5.3.1 The Caṇḍāla Sutta (A 5.175) speaks of a false layman—called an outcaste layman (upāsaka, caṇḍāla), a stained layman (upāsaka, mala), a low layman (upāsaka, paṭikiṭṭho)—in the following manner:

- (1) One lacks faith.
- (2) One lacks moral virtue.
- (3) One believes in rituals to invoke luck.
- (4) One relies on luck, not on karma.
- (5) One seeks the gift-worthy outside the Teaching and there gives his priority.

The same Sutta then defines a true layman—called a jewel layman (upāsaka, ratana), a lotus follower (upāsaka, paduma), a white-lotus follower (upāsaka, puṇḍarīka)—in the manner contrary to those of a false follower, namely:

- (1) One has faith (saddho).
- (2) One has moral virtue (sīlava).
- (3) One does not believe in rituals to invoke luck (akotuhala, maṅgaliko).
- (4) One relies on karma, not on luck (kammaṃ pacceti no maṅgalam).
- (5) One does not seek the gift-worthy outside the teaching but gives one’s priority here (in the teaching) (na ito bahiddhā dakkhiṇeyyaṃ gavesati idha ca pubba, kāraṃ karoti).

(A 5.175/3:206), SD 45.12<sup>117</sup>

Here, it is clear that the true lay follower, especially a streamwinner, is not superstitious. The third fetter—attachment to rituals and vows—in essence refers to relying on external means of dealing with problems, instead of looking within and understanding the nature of the mind, and dealing directly with it at the source (yoniso, manasikāra).

5.3.2 In the Mahā Parinibbāna Sutta (D 16), the Buddha tells Ānanda the spiritual destiny of various virtuous followers at Nādikā, and teaches him the Dharma mirror or mirror of the Dharma (dharm’-ādāsa)—that is, the 4 limbs of a streamwinner<sup>118</sup> [4.2]—by which if we wish, we could personally say of ourself,

“I have destroyed hell, the animal birth, the realm of the departed [ghosts], the plane of misery, the bad destination, the lower realm. I am a streamwinner, no longer bound for the lower world, sure of going over to self-awakening!” (D 16,2.8/2:93)

6 The lesser streamwinner

If one thinks that even becoming a streamwinner in this life is difficult, if not impossible, then one could become a “lesser streamwinner.”<sup>119</sup> The term cūḷa, sotāpanna or cullaka, sotāpanna is a commentarial one, and is not found in the Canon. However, the notion of a “lesser streamwinner” is found in the ten suttas of the Okkanta Saṃyutta,<sup>120</sup> the key passages of which—as found in its first discourse, the (Anicca) Cakkhu Sutta (S 25.1), for example—runs as follows:

The eye , bhikshu,	is impermanent, changing, becoming otherwise.
The ear	is impermanent, changing, becoming otherwise.
The nose	is impermanent, changing, becoming otherwise.
The tongue	is impermanent, changing, becoming otherwise.

<sup>117</sup> For a similar list, see Parihāna S (A 7.27/4:25), also called Hani S, and (Upāsaka) Parābhava S (A 5.176/4:26). See SD 12.14 (2). See also Kiñci Saṅkhāra S (A 6.93), SD 12.14.

<sup>119</sup> Cūḷa, sotāpanna, culla, sotāpanna, or cullaka sotāpanna. For further discussion on “lesser streamwinner,” see Laymen saints, SD 8.6(14b).

The body is impermanent, changing, becoming otherwise.

The mind is impermanent, changing, becoming otherwise.

Bhikkhus, one who has faith thus, who firmly believes these truths [is convinced of these truths], is called a faith-follower, ...

Bhikkhus, one who accepts these truths after pondering over them with some wisdom thus,<sup>121</sup> is called a truth-follower, one has entered the fixed course of rightness, entered the plane of superior persons, gone beyond the plane of the worldlings.<sup>122</sup>

One is incapable of doing any intentional deed by which one might be reborn in hell, or in the animal birth, or in the ghost realm. One is incapable of dying without attaining the fruit of stream-winning.<sup>123</sup> (S 25.1/3:225), SD 16.7<sup>124</sup>

7 The certainty of streamwinning

7.1 The purpose of practising the Buddha’s Dharma is to free oneself from suffering here and now. The main hindrance to this simple but vital truth is the thought that we are “incapable” of entering the stream to awakening in this life. As mentioned earlier [6], the ten suttas of the Okkanta Saṃyutta (S 25) guarantees our attaining of streamwinning in this life itself if we constantly practise the perception of impermanence.<sup>125</sup>

7.2 The possibility of gaining streamwinning here and now is further supported by Nakula,mātā’s declaration to the severely ill Nakula,pitā (by way of bedside counselling), thus:

Now,ouselord, it might be that you think, ‘After I am gone, the housewife Nakula,mātā might not find a footing, a foothold, and solace in the Teaching and Discipline, might not be one who has crossed over doubt, gone beyond uncertainty, won spiritual confidence, who, independent of others, dwells in the Teacher’s teaching.’<sup>126</sup>

Houselord, you should not see things that way. Houselord, for as long as there are the white-clad female lay disciples of the Blessed One who shall find a footing, a foothold, and solace in this Teaching and Discipline, crossed over doubt, gone beyond uncertainty, won moral courage, who, independent of others, dwell in the Teacher’s teaching, I am one amongst them.

If anyone should doubt or question this, let him go and ask the Blessed One who is residing in the Deer Park in the Bhesakaḷā Forest at Sumsumāra,giri in the Bhaggā country.

<sup>124</sup> The other 9 discourses of Okkanta Saṃyutta (the Connected Suttas on the Descent), ie, ch 25 of the Saṃyutta Nikāya are: (Anicca) Rūpa S (S 25.2), (Anicca) Viññāna S (S 25.3), (Anicca) Phassa S (S 25.4), (Anicca) Vedāna S (S 25.5), SD 17.3(4.5a), (Anicca) Saññā S (S 25.6), SD 17.4(10), (Anicca) Saṅkhāra S (S 25.7), (Anicca) Taṇhā S (S 25.8), (Anicca) Dhātu S (S 25.9), and (Anicca) Khandha S (S 25.10) (S 25.1-10/3:225-229). All these suttas make a distinction between 2 types of individuals—the faith follower (saddhā’nusārī) and the truth-follower (dhammānusārī), who enter into “the certainty of rightness” (sammatta,niyāma), ie, the transcendent noble eightfold path, or the path of streamwinning (sotāpatti,magga). See SD 16.7 (1.1.3) & also Gethin 2001:133-138.

This passage defines a streamwinner’s qualities. On ogādha-p,pattā, cf UA 345.

At the end of the Sutta, the Buddha himself endorses Nakula,mātā’s statement.<sup>127</sup>

7.3 The message of the 10 short but remarkable suttas of the Okkanta Saṃyutta (S 25) is clear: whether we merely have faith in the impermanence of all that exists (the world) (that is, as a faith-follower, saddhā’nusārī), or accept this truth through wisdom, that is, after wisely examining (that is, as a truth-follower, dharmānusārī), we are assured of becoming a streamwinner. We would not die without having realized the fruit of streamwinning.<sup>128</sup>

Each of the 10 suttas of the Okkanta Saṃyutta defines a streamwinner in the same way, as one who is “no longer bound for the lower world,<sup>129</sup> sure of going over to self-awakening.”<sup>130</sup> The alternative is surely devastating (rebirth in subhuman planes), but the blessings of streamwinning are immeasurable:

Pathavyā eka,rajjena	Better than absolute power over the earth,
saggassa gamanena vā	or even going to heaven,
sabba,lokādhipaccena	or lordship over all the worlds,
sotāpatti,phalaṃ varam	is the blessed fruit of streamwinning.	(Dh 178) <sup>131</sup>

8 The significance of streamwinning

8.1 THE BENEFITS OF STREAMWINNING. Streamwinning assures us of full awakening in not more than 7 lives. The streamwinner has 4 natural qualities called the “streamwinner’s limbs” (sotāpannassa aṅgāni), that is, wise faith in the Buddha, wise faith in the Dharma, wise faith in the sangha, and virtues dear to the noble ones [4.1.4]. These same 4 qualities are declared by the Buddha, in the Brāhmaṇā Sutta (S 55.12) to conduce to the awakening process. In other words, this is a confirmation that streamwinning will certainly lead to full awakening in this very life, or at the moment of death,<sup>132</sup> but not more than 7 lives (A 9.12,10). [3]

S 5.11.2.3, Saṃyutta Nikāya 5, Mahā Vagga 11, Sotāpatti Saṃyutta 2, Rājakārāma Vagga 2
Theme: The 4 limbs of a streamwinner conduce to the awakening process

1-2 Originating in Sāvattihī.

3 “Bhikshus, the brahmins proclaim a path called “the ascension.””<sup>133</sup>

3.2 They have their disciples undertake it, thus:

‘Come, my good man, as soon as you get up, go facing east!<sup>134</sup> Do avoid any pit, or any precipice, or any stump, or any brier [thorny spot], or any pool, or any cesspit.<sup>135</sup>

<sup>128</sup> On the lesser streamwinner, see (Anicca) Cakkhu S (S 25.1/3:225), SD 16.7 (1) esp (1.6).

<sup>129</sup> Avinīpāta, alt tr “not fated for birth in a suffering state”; opp of vinīpāta, “the world of suffering,” another name for the 4 woeful courses (duggati) or the 4 lower worlds (apāya) (Vism 13.92 f). Sometimes 5 woeful courses (pañca,gati) (D D 33,2.1/3:234; A 11.68) are mentioned: the hells (niraya), the animal birth (tirachāna,yoni), the ghost realm (pitti,visaya), the human world (manussa) and the heavenly world (deva). Of these, the first three are woeful, with the asura demons (asura,kāya) as the fourth woeful course. The remaining two are “happy courses” (sugati). For a discussion, see Nyanaponika & Bodhi (tr), Numerical Discourses of the Buddha, 1999:14-19.

<sup>131</sup> Dh 178 is quoted at SD 3.3(7), SD 10.16 (1.6.6.6), SD 18.7(4.4), SD 36.10(2.1.3), SD 47.3a(4.2.2).

<sup>133</sup> “The ascension,” udaya,gāminim, from udaya (“going upwards, ascending; prosperity”) + gāmini (“going”). The term “ascension” is representative of the theistic notions of the brahmins, as it is of theistic faiths today. This “natural adaptation” of the idea facilitates a Buddhist response to a closely related form of udaya,gāmini paṭipadā of the brahmins, that we can ascend to heaven by faith alone.

3.3 Wherever you should fall, expect death right there.<sup>136</sup>

Thus, my good man, with the breaking up of the body, after death, you will be reborn in a good destination, in a heavenly world.’

4 Now, bhikshus, this foolish way, this deluded way of the brahmins does not at all conduce to revulsion, to dispassion, to ending (of suffering), to peace [stilling], to direct knowledge, to self-awakening, to nirvana.

4.2 But, I, bhikshus, proclaim that in the noble one’s discipline there is the ascension that conduces to revulsion, to dispassion, to ending (of suffering), to peace [stilling], to direct knowledge, to self-awakening, to nirvana.

4.3 And what, bhikshus, is that ascension that conduces to revulsion, to dispassion, to ending (of suffering), to peace [stilling], to direct knowledge, to self-awakening, to nirvana? [362]

5 Here, bhikshus,<sup>137</sup>

The 4 limbs of a streamwinner

(1) a noble disciple is accomplished with wise faith in the Buddha thus:

‘So, too, is he the Blessed One: for, he is arhat,

fully self-awakened,
accomplished in wisdom and conduct,
well-farer,
knower of worlds,
peerless guide of tamable persons,
teacher of gods and humans,
awakened,
blessed.’

(2) He is accomplished with wise faith in the Dharma thus:

‘Well-taught is the true teaching of the Blessed One,
to be self-realized,
immediate [having nothing to do with time],
for one to “come and see,”
accessible [leading onward],
to be personally known by the wise.’

(3) He is accomplished with wise faith in the sangha thus:

‘Of good conduct	is the Blessed One’s community of holy disciples;
of upright conduct	is the Blessed One’s community of holy disciples;
of right conduct	is the Blessed One’s community of holy disciples;
of proper conduct	is the Blessed One’s community of holy disciples.

These 4 pairs of persons, the 8 individuals, are this Blessed One’s community of holy disciples:

worthy of offerings,
worthy of hospitality,
worthy of gifts,

<sup>134</sup> Ehi tvaṃ ambho purisa kālass’eva uṭṭhāya pācīna, mukho yāhi. An ex-member of the inner circle of the Guru Mahesh cult (later 1960s-early 1970s) reported that Mahesh, in his later years, insisted that all buildings belonging to his organization should have only east-facing doors. Doors facing other directions would be detrimental to the success of his organization, he claimed.

<sup>135</sup> So tvaṃ mā sobbhaṃ parivajjehi, mā papātaṃ, mā khāṇuṃ, mā kaṇḍaka, ṭhānaṃ, mā candaniyaṃ [Ee candanikaṃ], mā oḷigallaṃ.

worthy of salutation with the lotus-palms,
an incomparable field of merit for the world.’

- (4) He is accomplished with moral virtues dear to the noble ones,
unbroken, untorn,
unmixed, spotless,
liberating, praised by the wise, untarnished, giving rise to concentration.

6 This, bhikshus, is that ascension that conduces to revulsion, to dispassion, to ending (of suffering), to peace [stilling], to direct knowledge, to self-awakening, to nirvana.”

8.2 ONE WHO SEES NIRVANA

8.2.1 First sight of nirvana

8.2.1.1 Streamwinners can be either monastics or lay followers who has attained the noble path to awakening. Hence, they are known as “noble ones” (ariya). They are also said to have “wise faith” (avecca-p,pasāda), that is, joyful understanding, in the Buddha, the Dharma, and the sangha—since they have “reached certainty about the Tathagata” (tathāgate nitthaṅgata). The streamwinners’ joyful faith also arises on account thir being “seers of the deathless” (amata-d,dasa), that is, nirvana. [8.2.2.3].

8.2.1.2 The Niṭṭha Sutta (A 10.63), where certainty about the Buddha is ascribed to disciples at levels lower than arahantship.<sup>138</sup> The statement that these people have noble liberation (ariyena vimuttiyā) is unusual, but AA glosses it “by the liberation of the fruit of trainees” (sekha,phala,vimuttiyā).

8.2.2 The figure of seeing

8.2.2.1 In the Udakūpama Sutta (A 7.15), in its parable of the shipwreck, describes the streamwinner as one “who, having emerged (from the waters), observes, looks around” (ummujiṭvā vipassati viloketi).<sup>139</sup> As we know, all the 4 kinds of saints are described as “seeing the death-free (nirvana)” (amata-d,dasa) [8.2.2.3]. Hence, we can here interpret “surveys” (viloketi) as such a vision by the streamwinner: he sees nirvana.<sup>140</sup>

However, he does not touch it “with his own body” (kāyena phusivā): he has not personally realized nirvana. Hence, the monk Nārada, in (Musīla Nārada) Kosambī Sutta (S 12.68), declares that, although he has seen, he is still “unable to dwell, having touch it with his own body” (na kāyena phusivā vihareyya). In other words, he only sees the water, but he “is unable to draw out the water” and drink it to slake his thirst (SA 2:123). [8.2.3.1]

8.2.2.2 The verb vipassati, “observes,” is important, as it clearly denotes the practice of the perception of wisdom (anicca,saññā), which leads to streamwinning.<sup>141</sup> This verb famously found in the sentence, “one sees them each of them [the present moment] with insight” (tattha tattha vipassati) in the Bhadd’eka,ratta Suttas (M 131), thus:

The present state, as it arises,
one sees each of them with insight;
immovable, unshakable,
having known that, let one be sure of it.

*paccuppannañ ca yo dhammañ
tattha tattha vipassati
asamhīraṃ asankuppaṃ
taṃ vidvā manubrūhaye*

(M 131,3.3/3:187), SD 8.9

<sup>140</sup> Here, “seeing” is also dassana, which refers to the destruction of the 3 fetters, ie, the “influxes to be abandoned by seeing” (āsavā dassanā pahatabbā): see Sabb’āsava S (M 2,11/1:9), SD 30.3

Here, the Bhadd'eka,ratta Sutta instructs us to see only the arising of the 5 aggregates (or any of them) in the present moment. More simply, this means seeing each moment of “rising and falling,” as being impermanent: this is a perception of impermanence (anicca,saññā).<sup>142</sup>

8.2.2.3 The term amata-d,dasa (Skt amṛta, “non-death, immortality” + √DRṢ, to see) is a common attribute for all the 4 kinds of saints—they are said to “have seen the death-free,” that is, nirvana. It is found in the Chakka Nipāta of the Aṅguttara, in a series of suttas (including lay arhats), all of whom are said to be “seers of the death-free” (A 6.119-139/3:450 f).

In the Thera,gāthā, amata-d,dasa refers to the arhat who is a “three-knowledge seer of the death-free” (te,vijjo amata-d,daso), in the Rāhula Thera,gāthā (Tha 296) and the Vaḍḍha Thera,gāthā (Tha 336). In each case, the arhats Rāhula and Vaḍḍha speaks in reference to their own attainment.

The term amata,dasa, “seer of the death-free,” is used by the devatā disciple, Sirimā, in her Sirimā Vimāna,vatthu (Vv 147): “Thus am I the deity who is a seer of the death-free,” in reference to her state of streamwinning.<sup>143</sup>

The form amata,dassī, a synonym, is found in the Apadāna of Sāriputta (Ap 1.139). Here, it refers to Sāriputta’s attaining of arhathood.<sup>144</sup>

8.2.3 Looking at the water in the well

8.2.3.1 The (Musilā Nārada) Kosambī Sutta (S 12.68) is an interesting discourse about how a monk named Nārada explains that although he has “seen” nirvana, he is not an arhat. He is only sees nirvana, but has not fully attained it—in other words, he is only a streamwinner “who has clearly seen as it really is with right vision that nirvana is the ending of existence”<sup>145</sup>—but he has not himself “touched it with his own body” (assa na ca kāyena phusitvā), that is, not yet an arhat.

8.2.3.2 Using the parable of a desert well, he explains how a thirsty man, lost in the desert, finds a well, and looking into it, see water. However, he is unable to draw up the water to drink so that his thirst is slaked. Although seeing or vision (dassana) is associated with streamwing, it also describes the other three kinds of saints.

In fact, the Sutta Commentary says that the man afflicted by the heat represents the non-returner; the sight of the water in the well his seeing of nirvana; and the water-bucket, the path to arhathood. Just as the man oppressed by the heat sees the water in the well, the non-returner knows by review knowledge, “There is a breakthrough to the path to arhathood.”<sup>146</sup>

However, as the man lacks a rope and a bucket to draw the water so as to taste and drink it for himself, and quench his thirst, even so, the non-returner (or the streamwinner or the once-returner) is unable to personally touch [experience] awakening yet, because he has not reached the path of arhathood. So he is unable to sit down, absorbed in the attainment of the fruit of arhathood, which has nirvana as its object. (SA 2:123)
